This data is from Graf's website and dated March of 2016. I found you can download the entire hardbound reloading manual on their website. Meister Bullets - They have a reloading manual for sale here. Norma - Still has the 2006 manual posted current (maybe next decade we will get an update). You said it's like they are to "think" I'm thinking you meant to thick? 02-19-2018, 10:48 PM Junior Member Join Date: Mar 2012 Posts: 47 iTrader: 4 / 100% Reloads won't fit in magazine Hey Everyone. The hardback 2nd Volume has full data for what you would expect from them dated 2013. This happened to me on the 380 acp. Accurate/Western Powders - has a new (2017) 1st edition "Western Powders" manual out that has both Accurate, Blackhorn and Ramshot powders consolidated in one manual of almost 500 pages. Dakota Arms - Their website states they publish a reloading guide and to contact them or a dealer for more info. Reload Swiss - Their website is here and loading data here. The 1st Edition manual is dated 2011. 02-21-2018, 5:23 PM I need a LIFE!! Join Date: Nov 2011 Posts: 10,986 iTrader: 20 / 100% Quote: Originally Posted by hymnatr Thanks for the replies. Of course, they have an excellent website with all of the data for free. Berger - 1st Edition is current with more data here. Data is dated March of 2016. Click on the type of bullet near the bottom of the page. Cartridges of the World - now in it's 15th Edition., published in 2016. Been making them for years and all of a sudden I can't get more the 3 into any of the magazines for my 1911's. Lee - the 2nd Revised Edition is the current version. not really. I'm having a problem with my 45acp. Hawk Cartridges - Main website is here and the reloading manual can be purchased here. Hodgdon/IMR/Winchester - the 2018 annual (15th edition of the magazine type) is available at newsstands and here. You can download the manual free or buy the printed version on their estore. I was able to purchase a physical copy after many hours of looking, but shipping to US was 3 times the cost of the manual. Leftists support state tyranny. Cutting Edge Bullets - They have posted some info to help reloaders here. ADI - the 9th Edition is out, but not easily shipped to the states it would appear. Barnes - the 4th Edition is current with other data found here. 02-20-2018, 6:58 AM Senior Member Join Date: Jul 2014 Location: Dayton, NV Posts: 722 iTrader: 2 / 100% OP, you said you've been making them for years. Please don't use the former for the latter. Weird that a few of them didn't get pressed down completely. They publish bullet tech info here. RWS (Rottweil, RIAG) - They print a hardback reloading manual, but it is only available in German. SPG Lubricants - This Company is all about black powder shooting. Lyman - The 50th Edition is current with other sub-interest editions available as well (AR, Long Range (new this year), Pistol, Black Powder, Cast Bullets, etc.). Updates can be found here for rifles and here for handguns. You can search on the web and find the exact equivalents or look here. You can check out the website here. Federal Premium - They only post shotshell data. Oregon Trail - Producer of Lasercast bullets produce a small spiral bound reloading book. Does anyone have an idea what the problem can be? The also have the loadswap.com website which does have data. Swift - The 2nd Edition of their hardbound manual is current. Linebaugh - Has info on the website here. John Taffin - The gunwriter posts his info here. I'm using RCBS progressive reloader, redding dies. Their manual can be bought at their estore here. Bullet profile is important too. Any pics? Since announcements at the SHOT Show are yet to happen, I will update as I hear about them. Chapters 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 8, and 9 can be found on the "informationen" tab while chapters 5 and 7 which contain the reloading data are on the "Daten" tab which requires agreeing to their terms of use. Shooters World (Lovex) - Explosia of the Czech Republic offers a series of PDFs for free at the bottom of the page after you agree to the terms. Reloading info is here. Beartooth Bullets - They publish a book about their bullets, but say it is not a reloading manual. If anyone has other updates - post away! If I missed some company - I am sorry and post the info up. Measure them, don't assume what is on box is correct. That or the bullets are not all the same shape and that allowed some to not seat the same. What OAL are you setting to? Can you say for certain you ran the press all the way to its stop?? While not a reloading manual, it does have a wealth of load data, or to big in diameter and don't mean to long? Hornady - the 10th Edition has been out since 2017. Leftists are progressives, Prussian state-socialists, fascists. Nobel - Info for the Vectan line can be found here. Most of the cartridges listed have a least a load or two detailed under the history of the cartridge. In 2016, I posted a current editions reloading manuals review. I tried some factory ammo and it went in with no problem. Available here. Speer - The brand new 15th Edition is shipping (see review in post number#22). It does include shotshells, whereas the Hodgdon magazine does not Alliant - the 2018 download is available now at their site. Lehigh Defense - They have data here.
